1. USAfrica?: Red alert on Arab Colonialism in Black Africa!

Fellow warriors for Black African liberation, Greetings!

We are sure you are very busy, each and every one, coping in the belly of the beast, and battling, as best you can, the local manifestations of the Race War. But an emergency crisis has arisen. Hence this red alert and call to action stations.

While we have been campaigning for Afrocentrism, reparations, repatriation, Darfur, South Sudan, Mauritania etc, our Arab enemies have stolen a march on us and are poised to trap all of Black Africa in the net of Gadhafi's USofAfrica, and from there drag all Black Africans under Arab colonialism and, from there, carry us off into captivity, slavery, Arabisation and worse. Sudan since 1955 has been a prototype of Arab colonialism masquerading as Afro-Arab unity. Blacks there, under the Arab minority colonial government, have been subjected to oppression, exploitation, war, mass rape, sex slavery, mass murder, Arabization and enslavement. A united Afro-Arab Sudan is a terrible example of what Black Africans can expect under a continental Afro-Arab Union government like Gadhafi's USofAfrica.

In our opinion, this new development is very dangerous; and addressing it should become our top priority, starting yesterday. If we lose this battle, and this Arab colonialist USofAfrica is inaugurated, all the local crises we have been dealing with so far, will together be like child's play compared to what the Arab colonialists will inflict on all of Black Africa. And all our other struggles will have failed. For instance, why would any sane black want to repatriate into an Africa that has fallen under Arab colonialism and slavery? And even if you got $1bn each in reparations money, can you enjoy it as a slave of the Arabs?

Once this Arabist USofAfrica is enacted by the AU, in Accra this July-- and is, predictably, quickly implemented-- it would be treason to advocate or struggle against the new Federal state. Arabs will, of course, control it as they have controlled the OAU/AU. Then the stage will be set for the Islamization and Arabisation of all of Black Africa. And we'll all be in the same stew where—without much understanding or help from the rest of Black Africa-- the blacks in Mauritania and Sudan have long been. And then it will be too late for regrets and protests.

If we don't mobilize and get the AU presidents to kill Gaddafi's USofAfrica in July, then, just as 1955 was the accursed year when the Black Sudanese were handed over to Arab colonialism by the British, the year 2007 will be the accursed year when Black Africa stupidly handed itself over to Arab colonialism!!

So you can understand the urgency of the matter, and why we must do everything we can, between now and July, to kill this enemy project. We all need to shift focus to this task of the immediate future, if we are to have any future at all.

We have formed a Committee Against Arab Colonialism in Black Africa (CAACBA) which is mobilizing black Africans everywhere for two tasks:

(A) To defeat Gaddafi's USofAfrica in Accra in July; and

(B) To promote the Garveyite project of a Black African superpower by 2060.

These two mobilizations are intimately related. The best way to wean Black people from Continentialism is to give them a better project in which to invest their emotions and energies. It's a bit like the methadone treatment for heroin addiction. Our people, for 50 years have been hooked on Continentialist Afro-Arab Pan Africanism (CAAPA). We need to substitute a Garveyite Black Power Pan Africanism (BPPA) for that Continentialist disaster. And now is our last chance to do that.

Please read and deliberate on this alert letter and the attached files.

And pass them on to every Black African that you can. As soon as we hammer out a program of action, we shall let you know, so you can play your part in this all-important fight.

Yours in our struggle,

Chinweizu

Coordinator for The CAACBA

The CAACBA is an informal network of black African scholars and activists, in Black Africa and the Diaspora, who, over the years, have kept an Afrocentric sentinel's eye on Afro-Arab relations.

2. USAfrica & Arab Colonialism: program of action

Dear Afrocentrist black African,

Here is a 5-point program of action suggested by the CAACBA

- 1] Fwd this series and program of action to as many Black Africans as you can.
- 2] Put it on as many websites as possible;
- 3] Get editors to publish it in your local Black Community Newspapers;
- 4] Hold community study and discussion meetings on USAfrica and Arab Colonialism, using the series as basic discussion materials;
- 5] Write to your local newspapers, call your radio stations, contact your church leadership, organize marches and demonstrations, send petitions to the president and foreign minister of your country-- as well as of other Black African countries —and demand a five-year moratorium on any decision on the USAfrica to enable the black communities discuss and debate it and give the AU presidents a democratic mandate on what to do about it.

Editors who want non-pdf copies of the series to print from should write to sundoor999@gmail.com and request the MSWord version of the series.

3. Gadafi's threat to pull his funds out of the AU and Black Africa unless they agree to his USAfrica

10FEB08

Bankie hi:

Thanks for your two responses of a week ago to my question about Gadafi's threat.

Your notion that Gadafi, after finally catching us in his Arab trap, might still let us out and embrace his new friends across the Mediterranean, seems preposterous to me. And here is why.

Let's not underestimate the enemy. I don't think he is that erratic. We mustn't forget that the Arabs, starting with Nasser, started luring us into this trap 50 years ago. They have patiently nurtured it, left things to mature, and Gadafi is only now getting impatient and trying to force the pace, not abandon the job. He wants to get the job done and go down in Arab history as the final conqueror of all of Black Africa. I, therefore, don't see him behaving the erratic way you suggest. But let's leave that aside and focus on our real danger. For it seems to me that some of us, even within SSPP and CAACBA, are not doing the utmost that the situation requires to stop this USAfrica trap because we think the USAfrica won't work anyway. But that's a potentially fatal misreading of the situation. Fatal for us I mean. They fail to realize that even if it works for just one day, that would be a total disaster for us. It would have worked long enough to get us into Arab clutches 'for good'!

Once the fly has fallen into the spider's web, it is done for. So the thing to do is not to fall into it at all. Once the Trojans had dragged the Greek horse into their city, they were doomed. It was too late to push it out and save themselves: The enemy were already within the gates, and the Trojans' error was irreversible. That, I think, is how we should view this USAfrica gift horse!

This battle to stop the USAfrica from being proclaimed even for one day is our equivalent of some battles that forever changed the destinies of peoples: Tours, 732; Stalingrad 1942; Alexandria, 642. Had Charles Martel lost the battle of Tours, the Arabs would have conquered Europe. Had the Russians lost the battle of Stalingrad, Russia would have been conquered and colonized by Hitler. When the Patriarch of Alexandria capitulated to the Arabs in 642, he opened all of North Africa to Arab conquest and occupation, hence the problems we are still facing today in the borderlands. I therefore argue that we should never allow this USAfrica to be proclaimed at all. We must find some way to get our message to our people before it is too late for regrets and protests.

OUR PRIORITIES & METHOD OF WORK

If a man is being hunted by a pack of lions, but has no sense of being in danger, he is as good as sacrificed to the lions. Our job is to let our people know the great danger we are all in. If we fail to give them a sense of their danger, we have failed, and our people are as good as the walking dead.

How would you like to have it said of us (SSPP and CAACBA) that we spent a year churning out papers and exchanging emails among ourselves but did not manage to get the papers to those who might have acted on their contents in that critical year when they could have saved Black Africa from Arab colonialism? Won't we look like ineffective sentinels who couldn't get their report home to headquarters?

PRIORITIES

In ordering our priorities, I suggest we be guided by the following rule: What must Black Africa know in order to survive? And how do we supply that knowledge to those who must use it, and by the time it is needed? Accordingly, we need to decide what is our most urgent task and pool our efforts together and get it done and on time.

As I see it, the situation demands that we achieve several things in correct, strategic sequence:

- A] Derail the USAfrica bandwagon, or at least create serious dissent among those in it (NGOs, Govts) as soon as possible this year, 2008;
- B] Help South Sudan to get independence in 2011;
- C] Change the Black African mindset about Afro-Arab relations and the crises in the Borderlands.

We should note that success at A is important for B; and success at A and B is the key to C. We should also note that if we fail at A and succeed at B, we would have failed altogether, in as much as an 'Independent South Sudan' that is within the USAfrica has not achieved independence but only become, along with the rest of us, just another province of the Arab empire in Africa. And, if OAU/AU have been such disasters for South Sudan and Darfur, how much worse would USAfrica be for them?

If this argument is valid, then we, who are engaged on the Arab front of the race war, are required to concentrate our efforts on A, while also addressing the complementary tasks of B & C. So, what do we need to do to achieve A? This boils down to how do we get our materials to the AU Commissioners, and to the Foreign Ministers, newspapers and NGOs of each Black African country? I suggest we earnestly put our heads together and solve this problem well before the next AU summit next July.

We on the Arab front need to resolutely avoid being distracted by secondary crises, e.g. Kenya, Africom & DRC, whose resolution is not only beyond our influence but also would not reduce the danger we are facing from our principal enemies of the day, namely the Arabs. Whatever the outcome of the rebellion in Kenya, or of the wars in DRC or of Africom, it will not make any fundamental difference to Black Africa's relationship with the Arabs or Europeans. On the other hand, if the USAfrica is enacted, all of Black Africa is lost to the Arabs; or if South Sudan loses the next round of its long war, the Arabs will seize the entire Nile Valley from us and be poised to grab Uganda, Kenya, CAR and beyond.

Though the danger from the West is quite serious, it is a very long-term problem, whereas the Arab danger is as immediate and decisive as a fire in the bedroom where we are sound asleep.

All in all, I suggest, for the above reasons, that we make the USAfrica our top priority for now until we achieve the breakthrough we desperately need.

4. Gaddafi's threat to pull his funds out of the AU and Black Africa unless they agree to his USAfrica

Mr Heru:

Thanks for inviting me and for the questions you wish to explore:

- How was Gadaffi able to position himself as the "standard bearer" for Pan-Afrikanism?
- What does this say about the current leadership in Afrika?
- Similarly, what does this say about Pan-Afrikanism today?
- How should Afrikan leaders respond to Gadaffi's threat?

In addition to the questions on your list, I would suggest you begin with the basic question: What does this Gadaffi threat actually mean? What is his aim in making it?

I think Gadaffi's threat is simply a tactical move in his campaign to rush Black Africa into the trap of his USAfrica. He is in a desperate hurry to get us into the cage and close the trapdoor.

In order to figure out an appropriate response, we need to understand this USAfrica business and see Gadaffi's strategic objective.

This Afro-Arab USAfrica is simply a tool in Gadaffi's campaign to complete, in one fell swoop, the centuries-old Arab ambition to conquer and enslave all of black Africa.

Gadaffi wants to go down in Arab history as the final conqueror of all of Black Africa. For the past 40 years that has been his grand ambition. After failing to seize different chunks of Black Africa piecemeal, he has now found a way to grab it all in one move.

What is the danger we must recognize?

I submit that 50 years after this USAfrica is proclaimed, all the land of the African continent, from Cape Town to Alexandria, and from Dakar to Mogadishu, will become Arab land. It will all be taken over by Arab settlers. Any blacks still found there will be like those now in Mauritania and Darfur: a displaced or enslaved population on the way to extermination.

In light of the above reading of what is at stake, which is supported by the evidence in the CAACBA Papers, What is to be done?

Each and every black African must TODAY answer some vital questions:

Q1: Do you want Black Africa to be conquered and enslaved by the Arabs?

If your answer is Yes!, then there is nothing for you to do but relax and let the African leaders agree to this USAfrica.

If your answer is NO!, then the next question is:

Q2: What are YOU going to do, BEFORE THE END OF March 08, to prevent it?

My suggestion is this: get the CAACBA Papers to Thabo Mbeki, Nelson Mandela, Graca Machel, Winnie Mandela, Desmond Tutu, Jacob Zuma and the ANC Executive, as well as to Museveni in Kampala, the Secretary General of SADC and the AU Commissioners.

Also to the Presidents and Foreign Ministers of the Black countries in the AU—to as many of them as you can reach.

If you can find the email address for any of them, send it to me at sundoor999@gmail.com, and I'll dispatch the papers to them.

It will then be up to them to act and do the right thing for Black Africa, namely

- 1) Ignore the threat;

- 2) Continue with the consolidation of ECOWAS, SADC, and the other regional associations as advocated by the SADC Secretary-General;
- 3) Declare a five-year moratorium on USAfrica discussion at the AU;
- 4) Use the five years to reconsider the entire idea of continental union and Afro-Arab USAfrica, bearing in mind considerable public opposition to and doubts about it.

Having reached the foreign Ministers, you can relax and ponder two more questions:

Q3: How come Pan Africanism, in 50 years, has been turned into a tool for the Arab conquest and enslavement of Black Africa?

Q4: What kind of Pan Africanism do Black Africans need for this 21st century?

This is the preface to THE CAACBA PAPERS.

If you want all the rest, just let me know.

In service to Black Africa,
